ONE MAN-ONE VOTE DECISION IN APRIL

Mattapoisett Selectmen decided at their last meeting to schedule the vote on the make-up of the Old Rochester Regional District School Committee membership for the next annual Town Meeting to be held on April 4th. The Selectmen sought the preference of Mr. Charles Dunn on the date of decision. Mr. Dunn replied that his group V.O.T.E.R. would leave the decision in the Selectmen's hands. Selectman Donald Linhares made the suggestion that the matter be left to the Annual Town Meeting since the other towns had conveyed their intention to bring the matter to their own annual meetings. He suggested that the article be placed right after the budget decision so that it would receive the broadest consideration by the townspeople. Chairman R. William Blasdale suggested this be put as a motion which he seconded and which was voted. Selectman William Hubbard was not present but had made known his preference for the Annual Town Meeting date.

The citizens' group (Voice of Truly Equal Representation, V.O.T.E.R.) which sponsors representation based on the member towns' population on the ORR School Committee has been active since the early Spring of 1976. They base the move on the Supreme Court interpretation of the One Man-One Vote concept.

ROAD HEARING

A hearing was held upon the petition of the developer Joseph Travis for the acceptance of Peace Pipe Path, Boxberry Path, Beaver Path and Crooked Bow Road, a development located off North Street across from Massasoit Way. All of these roads and utilities have been approved by the Planning Board. One abutter was present. The Selectmen found that the petitions had met all Planning Board standards and approved the petition for presentation to the Town Meeting voters.

was upset by the Spartans of Stang by a 74 to 67 score. Dave Perkins scored 16 points, and Jeff Pina added 12 more, but it wasn't enough as the Bulldogs lost their second game in five outings.

The team came back, however, and powered by Jeff Dickerson's 14 points and Perkins' 13 they defeated Coyle-Cassidy 60 to 58. Wayne Caswell and Jimmy Lanagan each added 10 points to boost the Bulldogs' season record to 4 wins and 2 losses.

The Bulldog hockey team fell to New Bedford Voke by a 5 to 4 score. Jay Hiller scored first to put the Bulldogs in the lead but Voke came back with a goal and the score was tied 1-1 at the end of the first period. Voke scored early in the second period but Ken Douglass came back with 2 goals within 20 seconds of each other to give the team a 3-2 edge at the end of the second period.

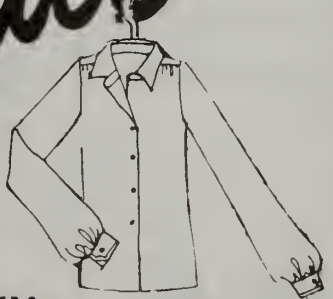

Voke scored only 13 seconds into the final period but Douglass came back and got a hat trick to put ORR back into the lead.

Voke then put the pressure on Goalie Glen Gaspar and beat him twice to end the game in a 5 to 4 Voke win.

Space Trip, 1976

Editorial - D.C.J.

There is no contest for the foremost achievement of 1976. The mid-year landing on Mars of a United States spacecraft has to rank as the scientific marvel of all time. Our eyes, our brains, our very hands were extended nearly half a billion miles into our solar system to explore our neighboring planet. Mars has been the subject of scientific speculation for all of our lives. Little green men building networks of canal systems have populated our imagination. Orson Welles, in his Mercury Theater radio broadcast, brought them to life and to earth in the minds of many radio listeners. Now, only a few decades later, we have extended our sophistication to the point where the actual landing and exploration of this planet has been virtually ignored. Our Viking I and Viking II have sent pictures of great clarity of a world of stupendous features such as a 4 mile deep canyon and a mountain 15 miles high, 45 miles across its peak and 335 miles across its base. No canals and no little men of any color have turned up in the pictures so detailed as to show tiny pebbles.

To control a space ship, land it, and command it across space so vast that radio signals take 19 minutes to reach the controllers this is fantasy come alive. Even at this moment we are gathering visual images of this alien planet that tears aside a lifelong veil and change mystery into familiar terrain.

With each new bit of knowledge, we turn back to our own world with awe and appreciation. This beautiful blue orb that we all ride on becomes more precious with each desolate photo from space. Our marvels are such that, even in

Lions' CARE Program

LIONS CLUBS HELP TO FEED NEEDY CHILDREN

Lions Clubs in the communities of Mattapoisett, Marion, Rochester, and other neighboring towns are part of a special Lions-CARE partnership program in southeastern Massachusetts and Cape Cod which will help to feed needy children in the Philippines, it was reported this week.

Under the leadership of Lions District 33-S Governor William Murphy of Somerset and District CARE Chairman Charles McAndrews of Kingston, these clubs have pledged a financial goal of $2,220.00 which will be donated to the international agency CARE to construct two school kitchens in the rural barrios (villages) of Talugtug and Carranglan in the Philippines.

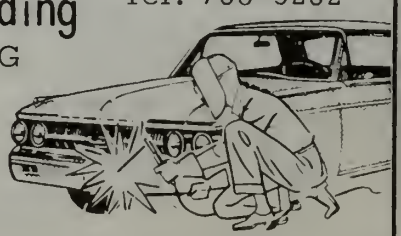

Richard Calandrella, CARE's Director of Development in New England, reported that during the next five years CARE will help to construct enough school kitchens in the Philippine to serve 725,000 school-age and pre-school age children.

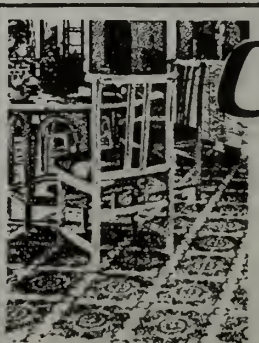

These kitchens will be built on to existing school buildings in rural regions to provide a daily hot lunch to school children and a daily nutritious food supplement to pre-school children in special afternoon nutrition programs.

District 33-S Lions have annually supported special international projects through the Lions CARE program, and in recent years their donations have helped to build schools in Honduras, Kenya and Korea, financed a vital well digging project in Nigeria, and supported CARE's Food Crusade.

Pacheco hopes the area school systems will take advantage of this unique learning opportunity. "It's a chance to see some real art, not reproductions, right on the walls ...art that's being done right now by professional artists living and working in the area. As a teacher myself, I can see the kind of impact, the kinds of questions it will pose for those students who have never been exposed to the real thing before."

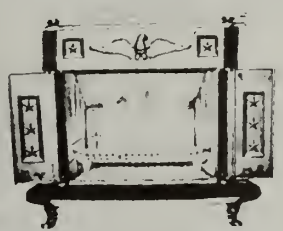

ARTWORKS is in the process of contacting other school systems within the Southeastern Massachusetts' area to make them aware of the service. Other kinds of groups are encouraged to make use of the service by contacting the Gallery Director to make the arrangements.

YMCA AWARDED NATIONAL CERTIFICATE

The New Bedford YMCA was awarded a National Certificate of Achievement today for excellence of its health and physical education program - a program which presently involves 6,000 young people and adults in the Greater New Bedford area.

The certificate will enable the New Bedford YMCA to enter its registered amateur athletes in official regional and national sports competition with YMCA's around the country and to participate in national physical education programs.

Edwin V. Babbitt, president of the YMCA Board, presented the certificate at the YMCA to Alvin Shwartz, chairman of the Health and Physical Education Department, praising the department for its leadership in providing recreation and physical fitness programs for the whole community.

The Certificate of Achievement is awarded every three years by the National Council of YMCA's to Member Associations who meet the standards set by the YMCA National Health and Physical Education Committee.

To meet these standards, YMCA's must conduct a balanced program of physical education, have a physical education committee and volunteer leaders to give guidance in policy and program development, and use the national YMCA aquatic program in its building, camp and the community.

It must also maintain qualified professional leaders, and operate with an up-to-date written policy.

"Perhaps most important of all", Babbitt said, "a YMCA must continually evaluate, revise, and modernize its physical education program to meet changing community needs."

GOVERNOR SEEKS PUBLIC DONATIONS FOR MASSACHUSETTS INAUGURAL FLOAT

Commerce Commissioner John J. Marino, on behalf of Governor Michael S. Dukakis, announced the start of a public fund-raising effort to promote a Massachusetts float in the 1977 Inaugural Parade in Washington, D.C.

"The state simply doesn't have the money to put to this purpose," Marino said. "But I'm sure we want to be represented at this important national event."

Commissioner Marino has informed the Inaugural Parade Committee that it is "the state's intention to participate".

Commissioner Marino stated, "We are planning a very distinctive float depicting 'Guardians of Freedom'. The theme will be expressed in three visual elements:

The theme of the float will be "Freedom and the Press," emphasizing the town meeting form of government, unique to New England and the form of government "of the people, by the people and for the people".

"I have no doubt whatsoever," Commissioner Marino said, "that the people of Massachusetts want to be represented and will contribute the needed funds." He added that the National Shawmut Bank of Boston has agreed to be the depository for all contributions. VETERAN SCOUTER TO GIVE LEADERSHIP

Appointment of John R. Halkyard of Mattapoisett to serve as chairman of the 1977 sustaining membership enrollment campaign for the Moby Dick Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, was announced by Council President Richard W. Paull of Marion.

Now retired and living in Mattapoisett, Halkyard has had a long and illustrious association with the character building organization. As a teenager in 1914 Halkyard joined Troop 3 at St. Andrew's Church in New Bedford and, while under the leadership of Scoutmaster Dan Parker, a former whaling ship captain, he enjoyed his first exciting camping experiences at Molly's Cove on Neck Road in Mattapoisett. Little did he know then that these memorable experiences would one day lead him to return to that very same area to spend his remaining years.

In 1917 Halkyard became the third Eagle Scout in the newly formed New Bedford Area Council. Also, at that time he served as the assistant camp director of the new council camp located at Rock-O-Dundee and Gaffney Roads in South Dartmouth. Later, Halkyard moved to Warren, Rhode Island, and then to Sharon, Mass. In both communities he served as scoutmaster of local Boy Scout Troops. Some years later, he became president of the Old Colony Council, BSA, with its present headquarters in Brockton, and while there was presented with the silver beaver award for exceptional service to boyhood.

From tenderfoot to eagle, from scoutmaster to council president, Halkyard has through the years served three Boy Scout Councils with distinction. In addition, he has been an active member of scouting's regional executive committee and has received the silver antelope award in recognition of his outstanding service at that level.

Retired from business in 1972, where he was vice president and director of the Carter, Rice, Storrs & Bement Corporation of Boston, Mass., he is a past president of the New England Paper Merchants' Association and a member of the Boston Paper and National Paper Trade Associations.

Now residing with his wife Edith on Neck Road, Mattapoisett, the Halkyards were recently honored by their three children on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. They have eight grandchildren.

In accepting his new position Halkyard explained that sustaining members of the council are selected registered members, parents, and friends of scouting who provide the additional funds needed beyond those received from the three United Ways with which it affiliates, to make scouting available in the seventeen communities served by the local scout council.

"Moby Dick Council", he said, "is a participating member agency of the United Ways of Greater New Bedford, Greater Fall River and Southeastern New England." Collectively, the three provide better than 50% of the council's total operating budget. The balance is raised primarily through the sale of supplies, some activities, and support by friends of scouting over and above that which they normally give to the United Way.

"The Council", he said, "helps to organize new scouting units, serves existing units, trains volunteer leaders, maintains and provides staff for a summer training camp, conducts activities to supplement unit program, employs a professional staff, and maintains a service center for its more than six thousand members.

"In 1977," Halkyard said, "we hope to see even more young people deeply involved in this educational movement," and that is why during the next several weeks he will be directing the council's operations in this vital fund-raising effort.

by the state Department of Public Safety. Just like an automobile, if the unit is not properly adjusted, it does not run smoothly and it uses more costly energy.

Here is an Energy Savings Month oil-burner check list prepared in cooperation with the Massachusetts Better Home Heat Council:

-- The two most important reasons for periodic adjustment or inspection of oil burners are to insure reliable automatic operation and to provide efficient fuel use.

-- Neglected oil burners can sometimes be using up to 20 per cent more fuel than necessary

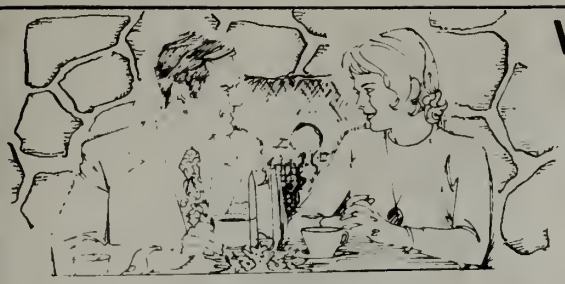

-- Homeowners who have overall service contracts with their heating contractors receive a regular tune-up visit automatically.

-- Heating contractors will also make arrangements for periodic tune-ups if the homeowner does not wish an overall service contract.

-- Adjustment procedures by the service technician should not be done by eye, but should always include the use of instruments. Instruments measure such things as draft, stack temperatures, products of combustion and other control features of automatic oil burning.

-- Many older units can and do produce maximum efficiency if they have been properly maintained and regularly serviced.

-- If an oil burner technician finds a unit with a low combustion efficiency which cannot be improved by adjustment, the owner should consider replacement. Modern boilers and furnaces squeeze the last possible ounce of heat out of the combustion process.

-- New complete units could save the homeowner as much as 40 per cent of fuel costs. The costs for installing new equipment are returned in a few years, sometimes only two or three.

-- New automatic clock thermostats can send fuel costs down. Installation cost equals the cost of a night out for dinner and a ball game, but savings could pay for several dinners.
